

Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

What this statement covers

Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking remains a hidden blight on our global society. We all have a responsibility to be alert to the risks, however small, in our business and in the wider supply chain.

Our Commitment

Stride Treglown is committed to ensuring that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains or in any part of our business and we comply with the conditions of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 for businesses with a turnover of less than £36m annually.

We are committed to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business relationships and taking reasonable steps to ensure slavery and human trafficking are not taking place in any business or organisation that has any sort of a business relationship with ourselves.

Due diligence processes for slavery and human trafficking

The Company has zero tolerance to slavery and human trafficking. We expect all those in our supply chain and our contractors to comply with our values.

As part of our initiative to identify and mitigate risk Stride Treglown has in place systems to encourage the reporting of concerns and the protection of whistleblowers.

Our supply chain providers are normally a UK provider and we expect all entities to have suitable anti-slavery and human trafficking policies and processes.

Training

The management team are responsible for compliance within their respective departments and in their supplier relationships and have been trained accordingly.

All employees receive an induction into the business where our policies, procedures and expectations are outlined.

Our effectiveness in combating slavery and human trafficking

Stride Treglown uses the following key performance indicators to measure how effective we have been to ensure that modern slavery and human trafficking is not taking place in any part of our business or supply chains:

Use of employment contracts, voluntary living wage salaries, right to work documentation and payroll audits

We maintain a level of communication and personal contact with the next link in the supply chain to ensure their understanding of, and compliance with, our expectations.

We regularly review supply chain policies, codes of conduct and our working practices to show commitment.

This statement is made in accordance with section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes the Company's slavery and human trafficking statement.

Reporting suspicions of slavery

Employees can report any suspicions of slavery either through your line manager, a director, HR team or externally to the Modern Slavery Helpline run by Unseen. Details are set out below:
